

Hunt the Genocidaires

2021

Crimes

The major crimes committed since the declaration of the war on Tigray on the 4th of November 2020 include:

1. Collective punishment;
2. Grave atrocities and heavy indiscriminate shelling and aerial bombing of populated areas including using Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (drones);
3. Extrajudicial executions of tens of thousands of civilians;
4. Denying people to collect corpses of their loved ones and let the hyenas eat corpse;
5. Widespread rape and sexual violence against women including underage girls-used as a weapon of war;
6. Systematic starvation of people by looting and deliberately destroying food and livelihood sources critical for survival;
7. Deliberate and long interruption of basic services: water, electricity, phone, internet and banking and medical emergencies to deny fundamental needs and disrupt communication and support from families, relatives and friends outside the region;
8. Prohibition of humanitarian access and looting and diversion of aid deliberately to cause mass starvation and famine employed as a weapon of war;
9. Ethnic profiling, firing from jobs, eviction from rental houses, detention and imprisonment in internment camps of tens of thousands Tigrayan soldiers in the Ethiopian defence forces including those in UN peace keeping missions, wealthy private business owners, those that have been working in Ethiopian Airlines, banks and other public and private companies;
10. Forcible return and attacks on refugee camps;
11. Forced disappearance of close to 20,000 Eritrean refugees from Shimelba and Histats and the repeated and pre-planned destruction of the refugee camps;

12. Annexure of a large swath of Tigray by the Amhara militias & systematic demographic change;
13. Forcing people to acquire Eritrean ID and barring humanitarian assistance from reaching particularly to the Irob communities in Tigray by the Eritrean forces;
14. Massive displacement of people, including 67,000 refugees from Tigray and more than 2 million internally displaced persons within Tigray;
15. Systematic destruction of industries such as Almeda Textile Factory, Addis Pharmaceuticals, Sheba Leather, and Tsemayat Marble Stones;
16. Systematic destruction and pillage of UNESCO registered and other heritage sites, religious and cultural buildings including in Aksum, Negash, and Debre Damo;
17. Systematic destruction and looting of public and private service institutions and properties such as universities, hospitals, pharmacies, health centers, schools, hotels, bakeries;
18. Organised looting and unlawful confiscation of properties of Endowment Fund for the Rehabilitation of Tigray (EFFORT), a multi-million-dollar public endowment that belonged to the people and government of Tigray.

Responsibility of criminals ranking and grading

There is sufficient information about the crimes committed and the individuals responsible for violations. This report applies specific method of determination of responsibility in the crimes committed. This note lists the suspected criminals based on their mandate and responsibility bestowed to the public offices they hold. The criteria used include: their decision-making powers as provided by the Emergency laws declared, membership to National Security Council, the Command Post, and the public pronouncements made. In general, the principle of association and membership to specific public office, committee, group, the units of the armed forces or armed groups to which these individuals belong have been identified as responsible.

Marking:

1. Official participation in the policy making, planning, command and execution of acts that led to violation- Commission- 3 marks
2. Failure to act to prevent crimes while in office with responsibility to do so- Omission – 3 marks
3. Conspiring with foreign forces – Treason- 3 marks
4. Personal Public pronouncement – incitement to genocidal acts- 3 marks

- Ethiopia's prime minister characterized the people of Tigray as weeds", "cancer" and "disease" that should be wiped out. This characterization, though not the first of its kind, prompted genocidal actions over the people of Tigray throughout the country. <https://www.thetimes.co.uk/article/abiys-pledge-to-crush-weeds-of-tigray-raises-fears-of-genocide-in-ethiopia-sx0xkqb2v>
- Prime Minister Abiy Ahmed admitted that he triggered the first bullet that caused the war on Tigray. <https://twitter.com/NigstiA/status/1333689219592712192?s=20> Abiy Ahmed claimed that he has made massive preparations for his war on Tigray. Contradicting his prior allegation that claimed the war was broke out because of an attack on ENDF's Northern Command, the PM admitted that he launched the offense after he has set all necessary preparations on place. He has also admitted that the military buildup, constituting sophisticated arsenals and unmanned drones (UAVs) were kept secret from the sight of his proponents so to belie that the capabilities of the Ethiopian Defense Forces was weak. The bottom line is the Ethiopian-Eritrean and Emirati war on Tigray was executed following the assurance of meticulously coordinated plan put in place since Abiy Ahmed's appointment as the Prime Minister of Ethiopia.
- In this letter, the Ethiopian Prime Minister labels all descending sources of information that expose his cover ups to the multifarious war crimes he committed in Tigray. Criticizing the growing calls for accountability, he says that the "allegations of war crimes reported in Tigray are fake news." Thus, he asks to disregard all stories reporting the existence of war crimes in Tigray. Trivializing the lives of those innocent victims, who are experiencing the daily horrors of massacre, famine, displacement, gang rape, abduction, and execution, he says telling these stories is not good for Ethiopia. Furthermore, the letter indicates that everyone has to recognize that Ethiopia is bigger than the lives of few million people and even bigger than the people of Tigray. He concludes by asking to focus on other issues and leave these stories to lie behind.

- Ethiopian Human Rights commission seeks explanation on Tigrayan ethnic profiling at Bolle International Airport: Translation of a news report provided as follows:

Ethiopian Human Rights Commission Seeks Clarification on New Regulations Requiring Passengers to Show Additional ID by airport Security Controls at Bolle International Airport:

By Tesfalem Weldeyes [Translation of the Amharic report]

The Ethiopian human rights commission seeks information on the new regulation and security screening procedures applied at Bolle

International airport requiring passengers to provide additional documentation before boarding their flights. The commission reiterated its concern that the new regulation which requires passengers to provide Kebele ID alongside other official travel documents makes people susceptible for ethnic profiling and discriminations.

The government affiliated human rights organization disclosed its concerns on 11/11/2020, in letter sent to the Ethiopian civil aviation authorities and the Bolle Airport Security Bureau. The letter was signed by Chief commissioner Dr. Daniel Bekelle with Cc to Ethiopian attorney General Office, the Ministry of Transportation and the Addis Ababa city administration, Ethiopian insider confirmed.

In the two pages long letter, the commission indicated that domestic and international passengers reported to the commission highlighting that the aviation authority has been enacting a mandatory Kebele ID screening in addition to other official travel documents. The commission further disclosed that the new regulation can raise two major human rights' violation concerns. The first concern is that the new regulation has the potential to restrict peoples fundamental right for freedom of movement. Acknowledging that passports are adequate to be considered a full-fledged identification documents, requirements for additional travel documentation raises another question of relevance.

Reiterating that Addis Ababa city has suspended ID issuing services at this time, the commission highlighted this problem will generate an unintended consequence of rights violation.

The second major point indicated in the commission's letter underlines that some ID cards issued by various Kebeles either contain recognizable ethnic markers or are detectable using digital methods. In consideration of the current grim condition in the country, we have noticed that the new regulation can lead into massive ethnic profiling, the commission underlined.

The commission has also asked the Ethiopian civil Aviation to investigate possible anomalies of the magnitude stated above and take a corrective measure immediately. The commission added, in order to help the commission, undertake a thorough assessment of possible human rights violation, the Aviation authorities requested for an explanation from concerned authorities.

The Director General of the Ethiopian Civil Aviation Authority, Colonel Wosenyeleh Hunegnaw confirmed receipt of the letter but indicated that the regulation is not in the bounds of his office’s mandate. He has also added that his office will send a reply tomorrow. He said: we do not inspect Identification documents. Our duty has no relation with the tasks indicated in the letter. Our mission is solely about transport control. We monitor standard safety and nothing more than that. Monitoring transport safety has nothing to do with ID verification, according to Ethiopian insider. Even a passport has an international standard and it is the duty of the immigration authorities to determine everything related with passport issues. In lieu of this, the director indicated, the letter should have been forwarded elsewhere. <https://ethiopiainsider.com/2020/2231/>
